

Individual Goals and Vision for the Family Farm

When developing a farm and ranch succession plan it is important to know each stakeholder’s vision, goals and plans. Be honest but polite. It is anticipated that this will be shared with other stakeholders.

Name: _____

I see my current role with the operation as follows:

In the future I would like my involvement to be as follows:

I see my involvement changing or evolving in the following way:

I believe that my involvement will change at certain milestones:

Describe the obstacles or challenges you see to the farming operation you envision:

What resources can you bring to the operation? This may include financial, marketing, labor, innovations, knowledge, etc.:
